Selected area:

Education

Project Topic:

Course Planning and Note Sharing System for University Students

Description:

In this project, I plan to design an interactive system that allows university students to organize their course schedules, track homework/exam dates, and share course notes with their classmates. My target user group will be students, so I will be able to conduct user research easily.